Our pure organic Argan Oil is first cold-pressed to yield the highest-grade oil possible. ORGANIC BAOBAB OIL FROM SOUTHERN AFRICA

Cold-pressed from the kernel of Africa's most recognizable tree, certified organic Baobab Oil is a prized exotic oil. Our pure Baobab Oil repairs and hydrates dry skin and damaged hair. It also fights the visible signs of aging skin.

The massive and long-limbed baobab is also dubbed the “monkey-bread tree” or “upside-down tree,” so named for the spindly branches, spreading upwards from the thick trunk, that resemble a root system more than a tree's crown. Most evocatively, it's called the “tree of life,” due to its many uses such as food or shelter, since this adaptive tree can store up to 120,000 litres of water inside its hollow trunk during times of draught.

Africa boasts a rich history of skin- and hair-care recipes sourced from the natural ingredients provided by its lush and varied landscape, and baobab oil is a shining example of this heritage. Our pure, unrefined Baobab Oil is characterized by its clear, golden colour and subtle, nutty scent. Thick and luxurious to the touch, it absorbs rapidly into the skin, leaving its surface supple yet nongreasy.

High in essential fatty acids, Baobab Oil nourishes and improves skin elasticity and soothes dry skin.

A few drops of Baobab Oil dabbed onto delicate areas—such as the eye contours, throat, and décolletage—will help moisturize these sensitive zones. For an intensive hair treatment, apply oil starting at the roots and draw it gently to the tips. Leave in for 10–15 minutes, then finish with a scalp massage before rinsing. For an indulgent face massage, apply several drops on the face; cover with a hot, damp facecloth; and gently rub until cloth cools.

Whether for profound healing of severely dry skin, or an enriching treat for your face or hair, our pure and organic Baobab Oil is a luxurious ally you don't want to do without!

WILDCRAFTED CACAY SEED OIL FROM COLOMBIA'S AMAZON RAINFOREST

Cacay oil moisturizes skin for relief from dryness and to help reduce the signs of ageing.

Sustainably wildcrafted in the heart of the Colombian rainforest, the bounty of the cacay tree has emerged as a driving force in Colombia's emerging economy. The popularity of their nutrient-laden seeds for pharmaceutical, food, and cosmetic use has further led to the reforestation of countless hectares of barren land to fuel the growing demand for cacay-sourced products. The ripple effect caused by the growing demand for cacay products is a welcome diversification in revenue and hope for the people of Colombia.

When cold-pressed, cacay seeds yield an exquisite oil that will quench your skin, for a youthful look and feel. They are rich in naturally occurring nutrients that reduce the look of fine lines and wrinkles. It also helps protect from exposure to environmental stressors that can cause dry skin. A potent fatty acid content further hydrates the skin to replenish its moisture barrier.
